MESSAGE FROM JOINT DIRECTOR-PLACEMENT

The country today, as I write this, stands as one. We have fought this pandemic together and continue to fight this battle, with courage, integrity and the utmost level of compassion. The past year, if anything, taught us that change is the only constant. The only way one moves ahead is by enduring and embracing this change. The new normalcy has taught us a new way of living, something the world did not imagine before. But as they say, extraordinary problems demand extraordinary solutions.

Academia has witnessed a paradigm shift. We have shifted from the traditional framework to the one driven by innovations, keeping the spirit of peer-to-peer learning intact and offering a classroom experience in the safety of their homes. We had taken it upon us, to keep the rigor and passion of our academia and complete the academic cycle through robust and seamless online class modules across the entire tenure. In this effort, both faculty and students collaborated to the hilt across our various programs at our Bangalore campus.

We have completed around 1,800+ sessions through the online mode to ensure that the academic curriculum was complete in all respects. Concurrently, we have ensured that the end-term examinations are completed and students are evaluated in keeping with our rigorous standards and the expectations of corporate recruiters as well as accreditation agencies. We conducted these examinations as open book ones, wherein the questions were more rigorous, based on application, and required the students to elaborate by necessitating extensive research/ data collection, analysis, and assessments emphasized at evaluating the 'critical thinking skills' and 'creativity of students'. In fact, the COVID-19 crisis presented us with a unique opportunity to radically transform the nature of examination and assessment and the considered views of all our faculty and students were that this was a superior way of evaluating students compared to the conventional time-bound examinations. They say 'Necessity is the Mother of Invention' and although we have not invented it, we believe that we have innovated making extensive use of technology. This was no mean feat and we could not have done this without the constant and relentless support of and cooperation extended by our faculty, students, and IT administration in this hour of crisis.

MESSAGE FROM JOINT DIRECTOR-PLACEMENT

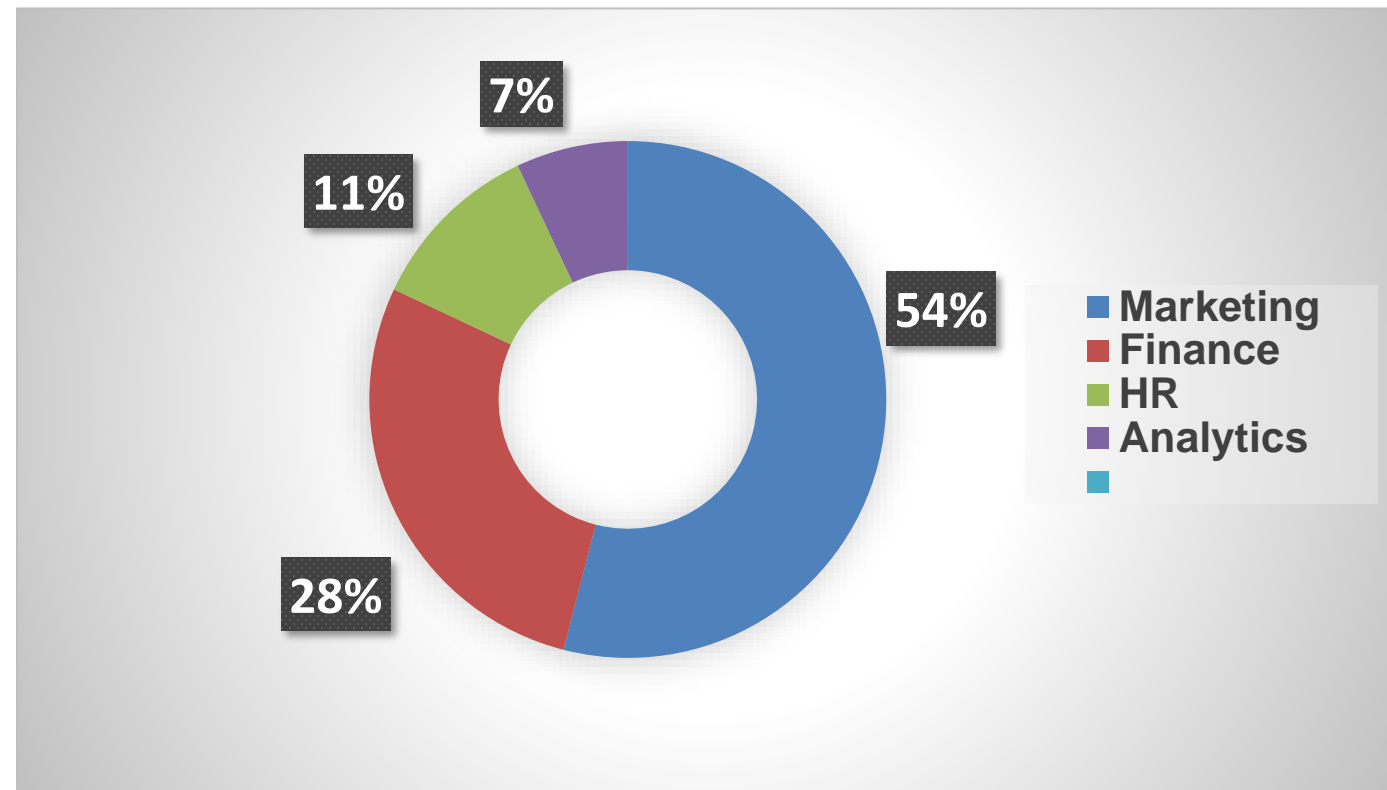

Our students who have graduated this year and the ones who step into the corporate world will get a flavor of the completely new business paradigm which is going to be a bedrock for future evolution, which organizations across the world will experience. In recent years we have been laying stress on Risk Management as a course of study and equipping our students to manage enterprise risks, but the current crisis resulting from COVID-19 is beyond normal risks that can be measured and in the realms of uncertainty caused by 'unknown unknowns'. The experience garnered by students during this period would have prepared them better for a future where uncertainty might be the 'new normal'. This experience should also enhance their skills in handling ambiguity in the course of executing strategies and meeting objectives, goals, and targets.

The crisis in hand, today, imparts one more lesson – transforming adversities into opportunities. For all of us in academia and corporate sectors, it is a time for reflection to examine the way manage our organizations and conduct ourselves in times of unprecedented crisis. On this note, we at NMIMS would be happy to work closely with the industry and restructure our curriculum framework and pedagogies so as to make them in tandem with today's industry standards and meet the contemporary needs of corporates.

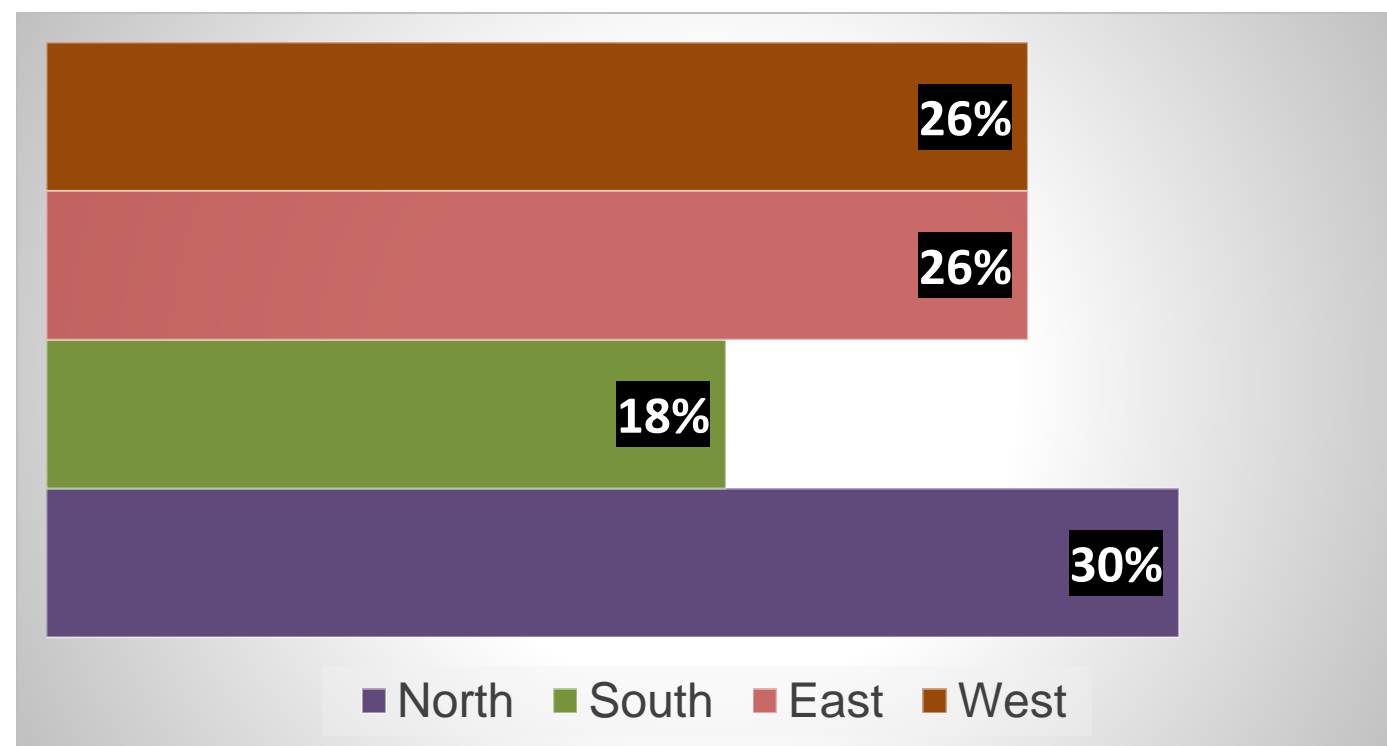

Wishing all our PGDM graduates the very best in their careers. To our corporates, we would like to reiterate our stand and promise to produce highly skilled and driven management graduates who are competent, job-ready, ethical and are potential business leaders.

With warm regards,
Ekalavya Baruah
